DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-7 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pagan 6021779.
4. Pagan teaches a laryngeal mask assembly comprising: an airway tube; a mount at a patient end of the tube (col. 2, lines 19-23); and an annular sealing cuff 30 extending around a patient end of the mount (fig. 2); wherein the sealing cuff is attached with the mount by an adhesive (col. 3, lines 2-4); including an inflation line opening 3 at one end into the sealing cuff, and wherein the sealing cuff is inflatable and deflatable via the inflation line (col. 3, lines 5-12). It should be noted that Pagan fails to teach wherein the airway tube and mount are molded together. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to mold the airway tube and mount since it has been held that forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces and put together involves only routine skill in the art. Howard v. Detroit Stove Works, 150 U.S. 164 (1893).

5. As to claim 3, it should be noted that Pagan fails to teach wherein an inflation line extends in a groove along an outside of the airway tube. However, Pagan does teach a lumen 2 wherein an inflation line extends. The groove and the lumen are mechanical expedients of each other for holding the inflation line in place.

6. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pagan in view of Sato 5392774.

7. Pagan teaches the laryngeal mask recited above. It should be noted that Pagan fails to specifically teach wherein the tube and mount are molded of polyurethane. However, Sato does teach the use of polyurethane. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art use the polyurethane of Sato to allow the easy insertion and allow the tube to conform to the shape of the oral cavity (col. 4, lines 14-24).

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
